

If I passed around a bottle on the foyer of the library roof

Could I afford to lose?

Yeah this is what I'm thinking about

If I sat drinking on the water would you come sit with me to say

All the things I couldn't dare? All the things I couldn't say?

If I sat on the water drinking would you come to take it all away?

All the things I wouldn't dare, all the things I could never say

Would you come and sit with me today?

Lately I've been thinking I've been talking to myself

Asking if I should be leaving. Asking what I should do

Can you tell me, can you tell me, can you tell me the truth

Every day I'm starting to lose

Everyday I'm starting to fade

Everyday I sit and 'I'm thinking

Wondering just what I should do

Everything is starting to fade

Will you come and sit with me?

Listen to what I forgot to say?

Will you sit and watch with me

While this green light fades away?

Everything is starting to lose

Focus

But in the end, all I see is you...
